Standard Operating Procedure for Mentoring Process in St. John College of Engineering and Management

1. Evolution And Progress Of Mentoring Process in SJCEM

Success can stem from a number of things, including the a good attitude and work ethic, being at the right place at the right time and the often-forgotten asset of having a MENTOR to help, guide, facilitate and learn.

Mentoring is important, not only because of the knowledge and skills students can learn from mentors, but also because mentoring provides professional socialization and personal support to facilitate success.

Mentoring for college students helps students feel more connected and engaged on campus, ultimately improving students outcomes. Quality mentoring greatly enhances students chances for success.

The mentoring process started in SJCEM in the academic year 2013-14, under the guidance of Late. Fr. John Rumao, Campus Minister, but it took proper shape from the academic year 2014-15.

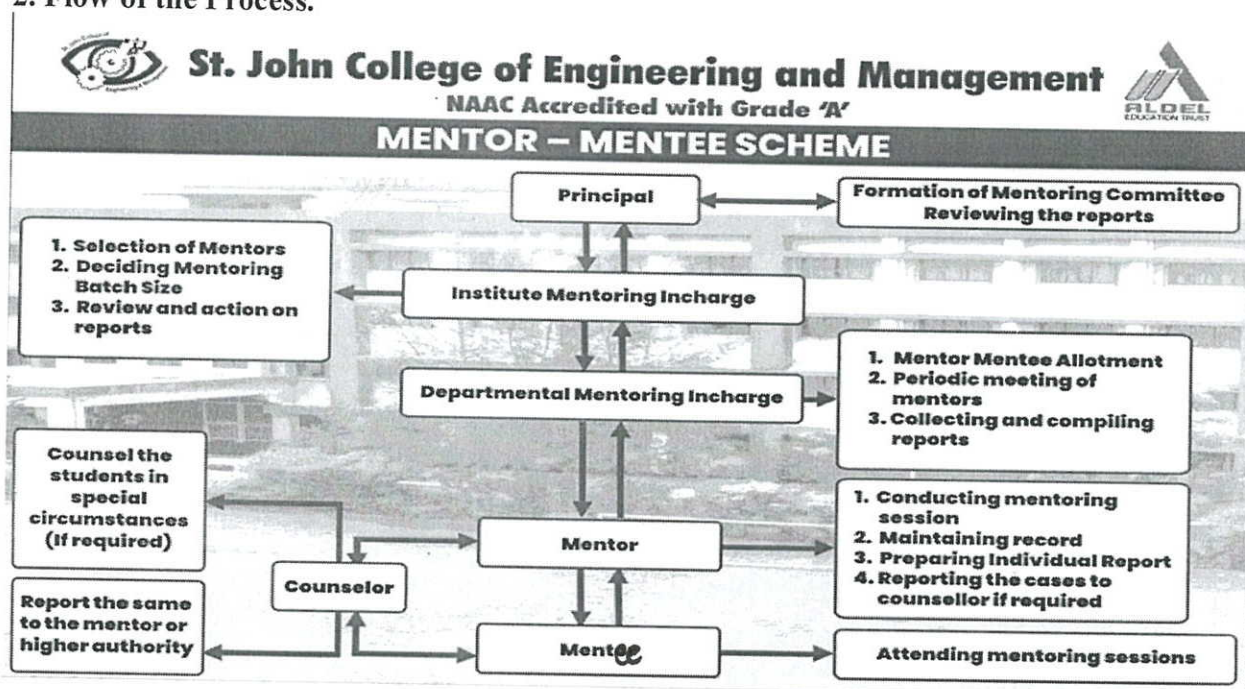

In the mentoring process students are randomly distributed among the faculty members.

Initially there was no fixed mentoring slot in the time-table, hence students were finding it difficult to meet their mentors during the college hours.

To overcome this hurdle, a fixed mentoring slot was incorporated in time table from academic year 2015-16. This modification led to effective interaction between mentors and their mentees.

In this way mentoring process evolved in SJCEM.

2. Flow of the Process.

- 1 Smarnika has not attended any lectures or mentoring sessions during the current term. Her elder sister (guardian) has been informed, and three defaulter letters have been sent.
- 2 Girl students reported maintenance issues in the washrooms on 2nd floor, including non-functional taps, inoperative flush systems, drainage problems, and missing locks on some washroom doors. These concerns were promptly communicated to the Head of Department (HOD)
- 3 Niyati Kini was initially absent due to illness and, despite recovering, has continued to miss lectures and mentoring sessions, indicating a pattern of irregular attendance.

Actions Suggested:

- 1 The matter has been escalated to HOD for further intervention.
